Notes:

Australian Women dominance

Have at least 1 World Cup win every year since 1992 (16 consecutive years). Only year when no Aussie woman won a World Cup was 1991, the first year of the World Cup circuit.
From 1996 to 1999, they won 32 out of the 40 races contested (80%).
In 1999, they won 9 out of the 11 World Cup races contested (82%).
In 1998, they won all 9 World Cup races.
In 1997, they won 7 of the 10 World Cup races contested (70%)
In 1996, Emma Carney won 7 of the 10 World Cup races. The only other woman to win World Cups in 1996 was Carol Montgomery (CAN) who won 3.

American Men

8 World Cup wins in first 3 years of the World Cup (1991-1993), then just 2 wins in the next 11 seasons (1994-2004)

New Zealand Women

After Jenny Rose won 4 World Cups in 1994, a Kiwi woman did not win until 2005 (Sam Warriner).

German Women

8 World Cup wins in last 5 seasons (2003-2007), but none in the previous 8 years (1995-2002)

Spanish Men

10 World Cup wins since 2001, but none in the previous 10 seasons (1991-2000)
